H.R. 620 ADA Education Reform Act

Passed the House (2/15/18 – 225-119)

• Would require PWDs to write a notification letter to business notifying them of architectural barriers.
• Business would then have 120 days to make “substantial progress” in removing barrier before a PWD could file a lawsuit.

Sen. Tammy Duckworth (D-IL) Letter

• No real momentum in the Senate on moving H.R. 620, but we must continue to voice our strong opposition until the end of this Congressional session.
H.R. 620 ADA Education Reform Act – Next Steps

• Roundtable Meeting with business proponents
  • Sens. Feinstein & Flake held a joint roundtable discussion with the business and disability communities to discuss the underlying issue driving H.R. 620 – frivolous lawsuits.
  • Business and disability communities agreed:
    o that barriers and compliance with the ADA are still an issue
    o that lawyers just seeking money and not access are hurting the ADA
  • Some business proponents want to work with disability to educate their members on how to be more accessible.
  • We are continuing the dialogue with the business community re: improving access.

Save the Americans with Disabilities Act

#SaveADA #HandsOffMyADA

- H.R. 620 or any similar legislation would limit the ability of people with disabilities to enforce their rights under the ADA to access places of public accommodation in the same manner as all other citizens.
- This bill would amend the ADA to require the individual with a disability to send a letter of notification to the business that was out of compliance with the law giving the business a grace period of 120 days in total before someone can file suit.
- This bill is trying to protect businesses at the expense of people with disabilities.

Request to Senators:
Oppose any bills, in the Senate, like HR 620, that would amend the Americans with Disabilities Act. Bills like these are not the answer small businesses are looking for to address lawsuits against their establishments.

United Spinal Association wants to ensure that all stakeholders continue to advocate to enforce the ADA and expand access to ADA technical assistance through the ADA National Network.
Roll on Capitol 2018 Hill Asks

• Air Travel Rights – Passengers with Disabilities
  #ACAAA #airtravelrights #accessibletravel

• Air Carriers Access Amendments Act - S.1318/H.R.5004
  Despite long-standing federal law prohibiting barriers to access, air travel related equipment damage and personal bodily injury remain far too commonplace, especially for wheelchair users. Higher standards, increased training, and stiffer penalties would help assure passenger safety and increased protection for their mobility devices.
  Senate Sponsor: Sen. Tammy Baldwin (D-WI)
  House Sponsor: Rep. Jim Langevin (D-RI)
